ITALIAN CRUISER SAILS FOR NEWPORT

RESIDENTS OF PENSACOLA OF THAT NATIONALITY WERE ENTERTAINED ON THE VESSEL SUNDAY EVENING AND A MOST ENJOYABLE TIME EXPERIENCED.

The Italian cruiser Dogali, which has been in port for the past seven or eight days, sailed yesterday morning shortly after 8 o'clock for Newport News. The vessel had arranged to depart Sunday night on her voyage, but on account of the fact that the officers and men desired to give a return reception to the Italian colony of Pensacola, it was decided to await until Monday morning before departing.

The smoker given the petty officers and men Saturday night at armory hall, when a large number of them were present, was one of the most enjoyable occasions to be experienced by the men since leaving their country and they were determined to return the compliment. All of them enjoyed the smoker in their honor, and although there were but few hours to arrange for a return event they sent out invitations to a large number of Italians of the city, requesting their presence on board the cruiser Sunday night.

The entertainment on board the cruiser was equal to that given in the armory hall in honor of the vessel. The cruiser was illuminated with many colored electric lights and in addition with the flags and signals of many nations.

The fine Marine band from the navy furnished music for the occasion, and received much applause.

The captain of the cruiser delivered a short address to the visitors from Pensacola and to the men of his ship, and he hoped that the ship would shortly return to this port for a more lengthy stay, as both his officers and men had been cordially received and entertained in the best possible manner.

After these ceremonies the guests, petty officers and men were seated at the tables and all enjoyed themselves for several hours, the event concluding with a dance.

The cruiser, which crossed the bar about 11 o'clock will touch at Newport News, after which she will proceed to Washington, when the captain will pay a call upon the Italian ambassador, and also upon President Roosevelt.

One of the features of the event was the cheering which greeted the American and Italian flags as they were unfurled.

TWO VESSELS COMING HERE FOR REPAIRS.

The monitor Amphitrite and the gunboat Vixen have both been ordered to Pensacola, and it is expected that they will reach this port within the course of the next week or ten days. The Amphitrite has been ordered here for the purpose of going in the Spanish dry dock for general repairs, which will require from two weeks to a month, but this cannot yet be ascertained until an examination has been made of her hull.

The Vixen, which is only a small vessel will probably be docked in the small wooden dock, and will remain here only a short time.

FIRE DEPARTMENT WAS INSPECTED

BY MAYOR BLISS AND THE MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF PUBLIC SAFETY.

A thorough inspection of the fire department of the city was made yesterday afternoon, when Mayor Bliss and the members of the Board of Public Safety paid a visit to the fire headquarters and also to the truck houses, and acquainted themselves with conditions prevailing in the department.

The mayor and members of the board gathered early in the afternoon and proceeded to the truck houses, where they were received by Chief Bicker. The new members acquainted themselves thoroughly with the working of the department, and were given pointers by the old members of the board.

One of the most thorough inspections ever known to have taken place in the department was made, including the trucks, apparatus, sleeping apartments for the firemen and general conditions prevailing, was made, and as a result it is anticipated that a number of departures from the old style of keeping the truck houses in order will be inaugurated, and that too at an early date.

IKE HENDERSON ARRESTED FOR SELLING LIQUOR

Ike Henderson, who is well known in the city, and who has been before various courts during the course of the past two years, was again arrested Sunday.

The arrest was made by Officer Ray upon the charge of selling liquor without a license. The case in the police court, when it was called yesterday morning, was turned over to the Federal officials and United States Deputy Marshal Wharton took charge of the prisoner.

Henderson was given a preliminary hearing yesterday before United States Commissioner Marsh and was held to the United States court.

When the officers made the raid upon the room of Henderson, which is on Central wharf, nearly fifty bottles of whiskey were found.

FORMAL DISCUSSION OF IMMIGRATION QUESTION

New York City Getting Tired of Retaining 60 Per Cent. of Foreigners who Land at that Port

By Associated Press.
New York, June 19.—Business men, socialists and others responding to a call of New York civic federation, will begin here today a formal discussion of the immigration question in the rooms of the New York board of trade and transportation.

While it has been estimated frequently that at least 60 per cent. of the immigrants arriving at this port remain in New York, the overcrowded condition of the East Side streets and tenements during the past six months has awakened new interest in the matter and plans will be discussed for ridding the city of the burden. Some authorities estimate that in Greater New York nearly 10,000 English speaking families are on the verge of destitution because of the influx of cheap labor.

BOARD OF WORKS WILL MEET THIS AFTERNOON.

The Board of Public Works, of which Chas. H. Turner is chairman, has been called to meet this afternoon. The meeting will be held in the office of the city clerk, when some matters of importance will come before the body. Consequently a full attendance is expected.

Among the matters which will come before the board is the selection of a superintendent to succeed John Burns, the present incumbent. There are a large number of applicants before the board, and it is expected that at this meeting some one will be selected.

Your Habitual Expression.

What kind of an expression do you wear habitually? Is it sour, morose, repellent? Is it a mean, stinging, contemptible, uncharitable, intolerant expression? Do you wear the expression of a bulldog, a grasping, greedy, hungry expression, which indicates an avaricious nature? Do you go about among your employees with a thundercloud expression, with a melancholy, despondent, hopeless look on your face, or do you wear the sunshine expression which radiates good cheer and hope, which indicates a feeling of good will and of helpfulness? Do people smile and look happier when you approach them, or do they shrink from you and feel a chilly goose flesh sensation come over them as they see you approach?

It makes all the difference in the world to you and to those whom you influence what kind of an expression you wear.—Orson Swett Marden in Success Magazine.

Harvey Combe's Reproof.
Perhaps the nearest reproof to a long winded preacher was that given by Harvey Combe when lord mayor of London to Dr. Parr. As they were coming out of church together Parr was so foolish as to ask the other how he liked his sermon. "Well, doctor, to speak frankly, there were four things in it that I did not like to hear. They were the quarters of the church clock which struck before you had finished."

Iceland Mail.
When the wind blows from the south and one of the islanders of south Iceland wishes to communicate with the mainland he puts his letters into a well corked bottle, and to insure their delivery he incloses at the same time a plug of twist tobacco or a cigar. The wind speedily impels the bottle to the shore of the mother island, where people are generally on the lookout.

THE REUNION AT LOUISVILLE

Floridian Writes of Hospitality Extended Confederate Veterans in Falls City.

Editor Pensacola Journal:

I have just returned from a short trip of 17 miles to the Soldiers' Home on Pewee Valley route. This beautiful place is where Kentucky puts her needy Confederate soldiers. The citizens of Louisville invited the veterans and their families to see what care is taken of these old fellows. Several bands of music and abundance of other entertainment were provided.

Situated in a large grove of oaks the beautiful buildings are surrounded with acres of blue grass and tastefully laid off beds of varied colored flowers with an abundance of running water, a vegetable garden and the joyous song of many birds.

If the inmates are not happy the surroundings are not the fault.

The hospital has about 50 inmates and there are some thirty others for whom the legislature has provided at a cost of about $175 each a year. Some two or three thousand visitors were conveyed by both steam and electric cars.

Thursday night the city was ablaze from First to Tenth streets and tastefully hung for miles with varied colored lights. The effect was very pleasing, shining as it did on the suspended draperies. Miles of bunting hung from the tall buildings and bands of music dispersed themselves in various sections.

Louisville has since Monday surely issued a very generous welcome to those they delight to honor. I visited two large tobacco warehouses on Main and Tenth streets. On the clean floors of these enormous buildings spring cots by the hundreds were ranged and each was a blanket, white sheet and snowy-white pillow and each at liberty to be occupied any and night by any veteran who wore his cross of honor. Across the street a large building had been engaged for eating purposes. The food was well cooked in variety and in plenty. Tickets for each meal were distributed and no one need be hungry for liberal preparations had been made.

At still another resort in the business section General Young has had rooms prepared in a similar manner and no one from the Florida Brigade need feel hungry.

At Florida headquarters something over 100 registered and through the day they were entertained with music, singing, piano accompaniments and recitations by young ladies. Hence Florida headquarters have been made particularly attractive again through the liberality of Hon. Bennett Young.

Again, Louisville has shown us thousands of her truly beautiful women. The streets were thronged with them and the big auditorium had many hundreds at the ball Wednesday night. Over 5000 persons were on the floor. Simplicity of dressing and particularly short dresses, showed the ladies' sense in preparing for the crowd they thought would be on hand.

The splendid Galt house was used as general headquarters and the crowds in the rotunda of this and the Louisville hotel were a very interesting sight. Here again beautiful and elegantly dressed women attract the gaze and the big auditorium had many hundreds at the ball Wednesday night. Over 5000 persons were on the floor. Simplicity of dressing and particularly short dresses, showed the ladies' sense in preparing for the crowd they thought would be on hand.

The liberality of the citizens was very noticeable. Every individual seems to vie with his neighbor in kindness and courtesy to their guests. There was beautiful weather throughout the reunion and fully 40,000 strangers were in the city.

The parade Friday was a big show and immense success.

What harvest is in progress. Much has been cut and harvested, and much remains. All the farmers are sanguine on the yield of tobacco. Thousands of hogheads are being hauled to the warehouses. I visited the big distillery owned by the Bernheim Company and saw many thousands of barrels in the bonded warehouses. Some ten large vats containing the mash under process, each containing ten thousand gallons were shown.

AN AMATEUR DETECTIVE. ASSISTANT STATE AUDITOR ARRIVES FROM TALLAHASSEE

His First and Last Experience in Tracing a Crime.

"I never attempted the Sherlock Holmes business but once," said Blythe, "and although I ran down the person I was after the results were not at all pleasant. One morning I missed a scarfpin, a single pearl worth about $50. I valued it more for its associations than almost anything else I had. I decided to say nothing about it to my wife, because things of that sort always upset her. She suspects the servants and does not hesitate to let them see it. Advertising a reward brought no results. One morning nearly two years after the pin was lost I saw it in the window of a pawnshop not three blocks from my home. I knew the police captain of the precinct and induced him to send one of his ward men with me to the pawnshop. Matters were soon explained. I was able to prove my ownership of the pin. The pawnbroker consulted his books.

"That pin," he said, "was brought here by a woman who regularly pawns things here on commission. It is a business, the same as shopping on commission. Many persons, especially women, who find it necessary to raise a little money in a hurry, are afraid to go to the pawnshop.

"He gave me the name and address of the woman who pawned my pin, and I looked her up. 'I don't want to make any trouble for you,' I said, 'but that pin was stolen. Just take me to the person who gave it to you to pawn, and you'll not be the loser.'

"She complied willingly. She said she was sent for by a woman who had read her advertisement and was given the pin to pawn in the usual course of business. She got $20 for it, and after deducting her commission had paid the money over to her customer and given her the ticket. She went to the pawnshop nearest the house to save time. Not until we were at my own doorstep did I realize where the woman was taking me.

"Do you mean to say that you got the pin in this house? I inquired.

"Certainly," she replied. "It was given to me by a tall woman with red hair. If she still lives here I should know her in a minute."

"That will do," I said. "Here is $5 for your trouble. I shall be obliged by your not mentioning this incident to anybody."

"The woman she had described was my wife. We had a bad quarrel of an hour. She had pawned the pin to get money for a rascallion of a brother, who had since fled to Canada. He stole the ticket from her and had evidently been unable to sell it before he skipped. And the poor woman had been living in mental torture for months because she was afraid to tell me. That experience cured me of a hankering for the detective business."—New York Times.
